PAST EVENTS FROM VALENTYNA GATALSKA

Good morning!
 02.06.2017 - 30.06.2017

About this event

Do you know the secret of happiness?... So do I. If there are problems at the lessons or in life, just visit the Padlet "The key to happiness" <https://padlet.com/dfktyabyfufnfkmcrfz/t0wvh3t55sou> and you will find out a lot of interesting things for raising your spirits. You may visit it just for fun. There are some good quotes and ideas which you may use at the lessons for warming up or just for relaxation. You may also share your favourite quotes or jokes or secrets of happiness. Let's create together a collection of good ideas useful for lessons or just for cheering ourselves up.

Good morning!
02.06.2017 - 30.06.2017

About this event

Cherry season always brings excitement because it is a symbol of spring, time for the rebirth of nature and a chance to sweeten the end of the school year. Cherries are always gorgeous whether they are blooming or ripening. Here is a Padlet <https://padlet.com/dfktybyfufnfkmcrfz/akfvjljc7u8y> to put some pictures of cherry blossom or berries from your orchard. You may upload your handmade cards here. You may also add the recipes of your favourite cherry dishes with pictures. You may share a song or a poem about cherry. Or you may even add your story with something special like 'a cherry on your cake'. It may be useful for your lessons. Welcome to our sweet cherry party!

News from my mother's garden!

- Gradually add flour until combined. Do not overmix.
- Spread a thin layer (1/4") batter into prepared pan.
- Top with pie filling.
- Drop spoonfuls of batter over filling.
- Bake 30 minutes or until golden brown.
- Cool completely.
- Whisk together powdered sugar, vanilla and enough milk to achieve desired consistency.
- Drizzle glaze over top.
- Allow to cool, cut in to bars and serve

Easy Cherry Pie Bars

It must be something God has grown.

I best not eat them all at once,
 And save a few for you.
 My tongue is colored with their juices,
 And my fingertips stained of darkest blue.

I have enough in my basket,
 So I'll go make a pie or tart.
 And invite you over to share with me,
 What was harvested from God's heart.

I love cherries!
Red, shiny, crispy, juicy, delicious for food and play!

When we were kids, we did ... earrings!
As in this Frederick Morgan's work, where he paintings two children in front of a platter with cherries.
The girl in the role of a big woman wears cherry-earrings in her ears. Cherries become a symbol of women's jewelry and femininity.

About this event

It's hot and sunny. The summer is on the move! What is the taste of summer? Sweet? Salty? Spicy? Joky? The English say 'tastes differ'. I agree with them: everyone likes different things. But I am sure almost everyone loves summer. What is the taste of summer for you? I invite you to <https://padlet.com/dfktybyfufnfkmcrfz/jlgiktdz9t7> to add your flavour to this summer. Put everything you enjoy: music, jokes, tasty dishes, etc. Let's make summer bright and tasty!

Good morning!
02.06.2017 - 30.06.2017

About this event

Honey is so sweet and tasty. A lot of people love it. Busy honeybees create 'dolce vita' for us. Honey collecting is an ancient activity. Humans apparently began hunting for honey at least 8,000 years ago, as evidenced by a cave painting in Valencia, Spain. There are a lot of collocations, proverbs and sayings in different languages which show the importance of this product for people all around the world. What does 'dolce vita' mean for you? Share your views on: <https://padlet.com/dfktyabyfufnfkmcrfz/j3f63924i73w> from honey products to restaurants, perfumes and life in general.

Josea Martin/Spain

I would say la "dolce vita" will always be linked to Anita Ekberg and Marcelo Mastroiani's film, Rome and its ancient monuments but also linked to infidelity, passion, love...

On the other hand dolce reminds me also of the sentence "dolce far niente" which means enjoying being idle, no having to do anything or just simply doing nothing relaxing.

What's the sweetest (dolce in its superior grade?) for me? Pancakes, icecreams, chocolate...

Since *The Word For 'Bee' (BHEI-) Is Present Only In The Western Territories, It Is not Correct To Deduce An IndoEuropean Origin. This Fact Makes A Mere Speculation The Idea Of Some Indo-Europeanists Who Pretend That *BHEI- Is Originally

Bee, Bees And Honey In The IndoEuropean Culture And Economy 2

"IndoEuropeans Knew Honey And Apiculture In Harmony With The Fact That The Southern Steppes Of Russia Are Part Of The Habitat Of The Bees.

The IndoEuropean Word For 'HONEY' Is *MELIT, Attested In Hittite MILIT, Greek μέλις, Gothic MILITIH, Old English MILISC, Welsh MEL, Old Irish MILIS, Albanian MJAL, Latin MEL. It Is True That This Word (*MELIT) It Is not Abundantly Attested In IndoIranian, Nevertheless It Is not Completely Absent: We Know This Through The Greek Lexicographer Hesychius Of Alexandria Who Has Kept The Scythian Form: ""μελιτιον: ποτα τι Σχυθικον""...

"We have Good Reasons To Think That The IndoEuropeans Used The HONEY not Only As A Food But That They Obtained An Alcoholic Drink.

We Refer To A Mix Of WATER And FERMENTED HONEY, Maybe By Adding Some YEAST.

LOVE THIS SONG!

LYRICS:

"Listen to the girl
As she takes on half the world
Moving up and so alive
In her honey dripping beehive
Beehive
It's good, so good, it's so good
So good

Walking back to you
Is the hardest thing that
I can do
That I can do for you
For you

I'll be your plastic toy
I'll be your plastic toy
For you

Eating up the scum
Is the hardest thing for
Me to do

Just like honey
Just like honey
Just like honey
Just like honey
Just like honey
Just like honey
Just like honey

It Exists In Fact In Finnish Mete, In Sami Mitt, Probably In Chinese Mi. MEDHU Is not Just A Simple Common IndoEuropean Word. This Drink, The Hydromel, Was Still Concretely Used By Many IndoEuropean Peoples: In India, In Greece, In Rome. The Celts And The AngloSaxons Used To Prepare And Drink It In The British Islands Until The Middle Age. In The Beowulf Poem, Hydromel Is Mentioned As The Drink Of The Gods.

In Piedmont (Italy) there are various types of honey: acacia, chestnut, raspberry, lavender, rhododendron, linden, and a thousand flowers.

A recipe with rice and the famous Castelmagno cheese, also includes a teaspoon of honey and hazelnuts from Piedmont (highly appreciated in pastries) to decorate the preparation

Here's the recipe for 4 people I've found:

320 grams of rice, meat or vegetable broth, 1 shallot, 1 glass of white wine, 3
