Lest we forget

The phrase "Lest we forget" is commonly used in war remembrance services and commemorative occasions in many countries and also in Ukraine on the 8th of May

The image shows a close-up, slightly low-angle view of a field of red poppies. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some fully open and others as buds. The petals are a vibrant red, and the centers are dark. The green stems and leaves are visible, creating a textured background. The lighting is soft, suggesting an overcast day. In the bottom right corner, there is a small pink circular button with a white plus sign.

The phrase "Lest we forget" is commonly used in war remembrance services and commemorative occasions in many countries. In Ukraine we also commemorate people who died in the Second World War not to forget past sacrifices. Many people put flowers to monuments, mostly red carnations, and wear poppies on their clothes. K. Simonov
"Wait for me"
(to Valentina Serova)

Wait for me, and I'll come back!
Wait with all you've got!
Wait, when dreary yellow rains
Tell you, you should not.
Wait when snow is falling fast,
Wait when summer's hot,
Wait when yesterdays are past,
Others are forgot.
Wait, when from that far-off place,
Letters don't arrive.
Wait, when those with whom you wait
Doubt if I'm alive.

Wait for me, and I'll come back!
Wait in patience yet.
When they tell you off by heart
That you should forget,
Even when my dearest ones
Say that I am lost,
Even when my friends give up,

end! Wait for me and I'll come back, Dodging every fate! "What a bit of luck!" they'll say, Those that would not wait. They will never understand How amidst the strife, By your waiting for me, dear, You had saved my life. Only you and I will know How you got me through. Simply - you knew how to wait - No one else but you.

About this event

On 8 December 2016, the United Nations General Assembly adopted a resolution designating 26 April as International Chernobyl Disaster Remembrance Day. The General Assembly recognized that, "three decades after the Chernobyl disaster, the still-persistent serious long-term consequences thereof, as well as the continuing related needs of the affected communities and territories," and invited "all Member States, ... and other international organizations, as well as civil society, to observe the day." In commemoration of those who sacrificed their lives for us to live I created a Power Point Presentation 'Chornobyl Heroes' and a Padlet <https://padlet.com/dfktybyfufnfkmcrfz/17i8ypuk0uwd>. I invite you to pay tribute to the victims of the disaster.

Lessons learned from Chernobyl

- The scale of the material and the financial losses in mitigating the consequences of the Chernobyl accident provide compelling evidence of the extremely high price of errors and shortcomings when ensuring the safety of nuclear power plants and of the need for strict compliance with international safety requirements during their design, construction and operation.
- The cost of ensuring the safety of nuclear facilities is significantly lower than that of dealing with accident consequences. Large-scale man-made accidents cause great social and economic damage to countries located in their area of influence. Hundreds of billions of US dollars' worth of direct and indirect damages have been reported by Belarus, Russia and Ukraine as a result of the Chernobyl nuclear power plant accident over the past 20 years.

Dear participants! Check the information before posting. Luckily, there wasn't any "mashroom" above the Chornobyl Power Station after the explosion. There was an effect of huge ionization of the air, it was shining like a rainbow, but it wasn't the bomb. We are still alive! This event, "Chornobyl Heroes", is for all of us to be active to protect our environment. We should learn the lessons from this terrible disaster not to break the laws of nature. At the same time we must thank all those people who gave their lives to save our lives and homes. Chornobyl Disaster wasn't their fault but they sacrificed their lives being aware of their own terrible death. Those people were from different part of the USSR, of different nationalities. Let's observe the moment of silence in commemoration of the dead. V.Gatal'ska
